Updated price and profit predictability tools now available for Ontario sheep producers

Guelph, ON – Ontario sheep producers now have access to the latest price and profit predictability tools to manage their farms and cash flow. These farm management resources have been upgraded and are available at no cost to members of the Ontario Sheep Farmers (OSF) here.

OSF created this unique farm management tool in partnership with the University of Guelph and OMAFRA, and recently assumed ownership and administrative of resource to ensure continued access for provincial sheep producers. During the migration of the tools, the OSF team took the opportunity to made several updates to improve accuracy and ease of use. Pricing predictions for lambs in all weight categories are now available within the updated price predictions for one to four weeks.

“The price and profit predictability tools will continue to be a go-to resource for producers to make decisions and provide information on prices they could expect at auction,” says Marc Carere, OSF Chair. “This updated data goes back seven years, making this tool even more useful for producers and we’re pleased it will remain available on the OSF website.”

About OSF The Ontario Sheep Farmers (OSF) is a producer-run organization established in 1985 and represents the province’s 3,000 sheep farmers who contribute over $530 million to Ontario’s economy. Ontario is home to the country’s largest sheep flock and processes over 50% of the sheep and lambs born in Canada. We believe passionately that sheep farming is an agricultural business sector that is profitable, contributes to the well-being of our communities and our province and offers unique opportunities to develop new markets, provide needed environmental benefits and grow both our domestic and international markets.
